

Disc Golf Rules

The Basic Game

The game of disc golf consists of throwing a flying disc from the teeing area to a target, which is a metal basket with chains. As a player progresses down the fairway, he or she must make each consecutive shot from the spot where the previous throw has landed. When throwing to a target, the disc must come to rest supported by the chains or within one of the entrapment sections of the target. The disc must also remain within the chains or entrapment section until removed by the player. The competitor who plays the round in the fewest throws plus penalty throws is the winner.

Order of Play

Players agree on the teeing order on the first tee. On all subsequent tees the player with the lowest score throws first. After all the players in the group have teed off, the player farthest from the hole throws first. Please allow faster players to play through.

A complete listing of all rules for disc golf can be found on the web at www.pdga.com. Take time to learn and follow the rules, which will make disc golf more enjoyable for everyone.
